Information Sessions: Thursday Sept. 8 & Monday Oct. 3 in NAC 6/207C from 4-5pm

Course Dates:
Two days at CCNY: December 13, 2016 (10am-4pm) and January 23, 2017 (5-9pm)
Oaxaca, Mexico: January 1-15, 2017

Instructor: Professor Tatyana Kleyn, tkleyn@ccny.cuny.edu

Open to all CUNY graduate students and upper level undergraduates
Spanish Proficiency Required

Description: Mexicans are the fastest growing group of immigrants in NYC. Become more informed about issues of diversity through a comparative US-Mexico lens. You will visit elementary and secondary schools and speak with educators, students, and families. You will tour indigenous communities to learn about the local languages, customs and practices, artistic traditions and school-going experiences of students. You will explore Monte Alban ruins that are central to Oaxaca’s history. And you will live with a Mexican family as a way to learn more about the country and its people.

Costs (Scholarships Available):
CUNY tuition: 3 graduate credits
Application fee: $300
Airfare: Approximately $700
Lodging, Food and Travel within Mexico: $800

Course Application: http://tinyurl.com/gqvng9a
Application Deadline: October 14, 2016

Additional information: Office of Study Abroad and International Programs
Ninive Gomez, 212-650-5494  ngomez@ccny.cuny.edu
http://www.ccny.cuny.edu/studyabroad